

Sometimes

Sometimes things don't go, after all,
from bad to worse. Some years, muscadell faces down frost ; green thrives ; the crops don't fail, sometimes a man aims high, and all goes well.

A people sometimes will step back from war ;
elect an honest man ; decide they care enough, that they can't leave some stranger poor.
Some men become what they were born for.

Sometimes our best efforts do not go amiss ; sometimes we do as we were meant to.
The sun will sometimes melt a field of sorrow that seemed hard frozen : may it happen for you.

Sheenagh Pugh (b. 1950)

from "Selected Poems" 1990, published by Seren. Reproduced by kind permission of the publisher.